Board of Selectmen Wrestle With "Conflict of Interest" Statute

Local Solons Given Posts

Local members of the Massachusetts Legislature drew multiple assignments when committees were named by General Court this week. Senator Philibert Pellegrini was appointed chairman of the Committee on cities. In addition, he was named member of the Committees on Banks and Banking; Taxation, Counties, and Judiciary.

Rep. "Ned" Dever has two assignments, the Committees on Metropolitan Affairs and on Constitutional Law.

Rep. Gregory Khachadorian was re-assigned to the Judiciary committee; Rep. Janet K. Starr will serve on

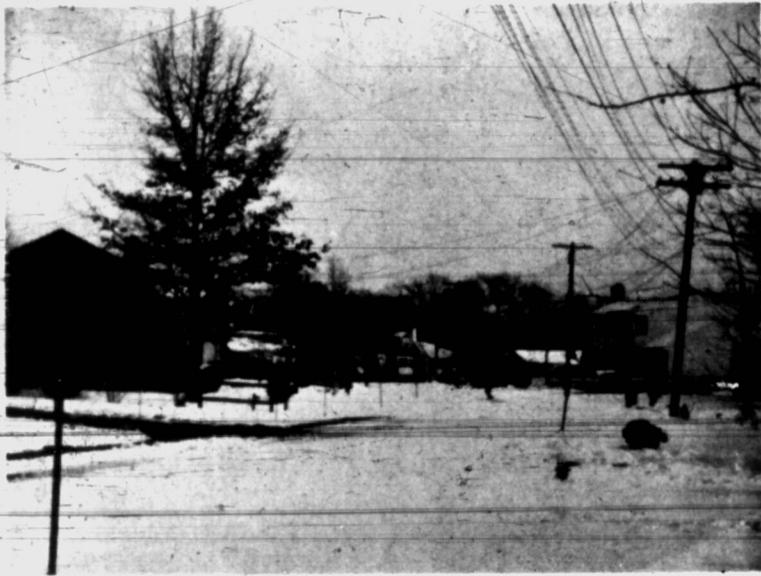

Not Approved

The recommendation by Town Manager Edward C. Monahan to re-appoint Ralph LaValle as a Board of Health commissioner for three years was not approved by the Board of Selectmen at the meeting on Monday night, in a 3-2 vote.

the Committees on Pension and Old Age, plus Mercantile Affairs.

Newly-elected Eleanor Campobasso drew two assignments, Committees on Insurance and Mercantile Affairs. Rep. William Moran is on the Rules Committee.

Residents Puzzled By Decision

CHEROKEE ROAD, where residents are puzzled why the Board of Selectmen have not marked up the street for acceptance in 1965 as a public road. Abutters voted 8 to 7 (later 9 to 6) for the entire road; and 7 to 4 (later 8 to 3) for a major portion.

Mother and Sister Victims In Car Crash

HIS MOTHER AND SISTER died in this accident when the car, driven by 18-year-old Michael Tramonte of 51 Hillside ave., crashed into a pole in front of 1149 Mass. ave. shortly after midnight last Thursday. The youth's condition is described as "serious-but satisfactory."

Editor & Speaker To Give Talk

Rev. Paul L. Sturges, executive minister of the Massachusetts Baptist convention, will speak on Sunday evening, Jan. 17, at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist church.

Under the sponsorship of the Board of Christian Education, all interested adults in the community are welcome to attend. The lecture and discussion on the topic "Baptists" will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will conclude at 9 p.m.

Dr. Sturges speaks on his Baptist denomination from experience as a pastor in Pittsfield, Redlands, Cal.; and Providence, R. I. He served also as director of educational Evangelism for the National Council of Churches.

As a church leader and past president of the Mass. Council of Churches, he has been an editor, speaker, contributor to religious journals and active in the C.B.S. National Church of the Air.

In a crash which literally demolished the car driven by an Arlington youth, his mother and sister were fatally injured. The accident took place on Mass. ave. at Quinn rd., shortly after midnight on Thursday, Jan. 14, when the car, in collision with a pole, was nearly sheared in two.

Police were at the scene immediately and reported that the vehicle driven by Michael Tramonte, 18, of 51 Hillside ave., was traveling westerly on Mass. ave., and apparently went out of control.

Mrs. Lena Costa, sister of the youth, was pronounced dead on arrival at Symmes hospital. Mrs. Tramonte, the mother of Mrs. Costa and Michael, died shortly after admission to Symmes, following the accident.

According to police, the youth was treated for facial injuries, a broken arm and internal injuries. Doctors Quigley and Tognozzi administered treatment to the victims.

In another accident, Francis X. Galvin, 25, of Magolia st., was fatally injured when the car he was driving was in collision with a car operated by Arthur B. Clifford, 56 Main st., Concord, N.H., at the intersection of Ridge st. and Mass. ave.

On the danger list at Cambridge City hospital is John Houseman, 18, who was a passenger in the Galvin car, according to police.

Mrs. Tramonte is survived by her husband, Leonard and son, Michael.

A proposal by Chairman John Bullock of the Board of Selectmen to appoint a citizens committee to investigate possible "conflict of interest" issues, touched off a discussion at the meeting on Monday night which at times sent sparks flying.

As the controversial subject was covered at length by members of the Board, Selectman John Billafer made a motion that the present board reconsider the matter of designation of the members as "special employees."

Billafer stated that, since the law is so complex, in his opinion the Board left themselves open for criticism, by the "special" classification.

He explained that in his opinion the Board should be subject to the very limits of the law and, with maximum classification, the matter is taken out of the realm of controversy. He stated that he saw no valid reason why the "special" classification should be continued.

Selectman Joseph Greeley contested the need for re-vote and referred to the fact that the co-author of the law, a Harvard professor, had stated publicly that the local Board of Selectmen took the right action in the vote for "special" designation.

It was pointed out that the law does allow for either "special" or "regular employee" designation and it is the function of the Board of Selectmen to classify Town employees.

Mention was made of the fact that in Winchester and some other Towns the Board of Selectmen are "regular" but further discussion revealed that such other Towns

Town Gets Excise Bonus

Town Treasurer Francis A. Coughlin reported this week that net collections in 1964, of auto excises and water bills exceeded the estimates charged into the 1964 tax rate last spring by $301,431.49.

The "available funds" figure which may be appropriated by the annual Town Meeting is thereby increased by this total. In 1964 each dollar on the tax rate represented approximately $92,000.

Treasurer Coughlin states that he is hopeful that these receipts will offset, at least to some extent, the many factors tending to cause rises in the 1965 tax rate.

Net auto excise receipts in 1964, were $1,105,644.45; since the estimate was $900,000.00, the "extra" excise receipts were $205,644.45.

Net water rates paid in 1964, totaled $550,107.48, a surplus of $95,787.04 over the estimate of $454,320.04.

Msgr. Fitzgibbons Honored

A COMMEMORATIVE banquet was held at Town Hall on Tuesday, Jan. 12, honoring Rt. Rev. Joseph M. Fitzgibbons, P.A.V.F., founder and pastor of St. Jerome's parish. Monsignor Fitzgibbons, recently bestowed with Papal Honors, was appointed Protonotary Apostolic by Pope Paul VI. Shown above at the head table, l. to r., are Rev. Michael G. Pierce, S.J., of Boston College; His Eminence Richard Cardinal Cushing; Msgr. Fitzgibbons, and Attorney Dwight L. Allison.

A banquet was tendered Rt. Rev. Joseph M. Fitzgibbons, P.A.V.F., founder and pastor of St. Jerome's church at Town Hall on Tuesday night, in commemoration of his recent Papal Honors.

His Eminence Richard Cardinal Cushing brought ecclesiastical greetings to Msgr. Fitzgibbons and noted that he was a "consolation to the Church". The Cardinal stressed the need for dedicated men in all walks of life.

Tributes included statements by Town Manager Edward C. Monahan that the Monsignor has typified the word "excellence" and Rt. Rev. Joseph M. Fitzgibbons brought honor to the Town.

OVERDUE CHARGES AT ROBBINS LIBRARY

Effective February 1, 1965, overdue charges at Robbins Library, including Dallin and East Branches, will be raised from 2¢ to 4¢ per day.

Overdue charges in the Junior Library and for children's books at Dallin and East Branches will be raised from 1¢ to 2¢ per day.

Overdue charges have remained the same for more than twenty-five years. All such monies received by the Library go directly into the Town Treasury.

The demand for books by library patrons has greatly increased in recent years and the Trustees hope that patrons will cooperate by returning books more promptly. In this way they will be available to circulate more often to increasing numbers of borrowers.

Robbins Library Trustees desire to cooperate with Town Officials in holding costs in line, while at the same time maintaining the highest standards of library service to the community. It is with this mind that a change has been voted on overdue charges.

Looking Back At 1964

During these early days of 1965, as we look ahead to better and bigger events with the undaunted spirit that has carried Americans as well as other peoples through the gamut of events that both plague and inspire humans, let us pledge ourselves to the hope of real "peace on earth".

Programs are underway at home and abroad to bring relief to underprivileged areas with a fervor to gladden the hearts of even the most pessimistic among us. We may not reach perfection but it seems that more are trying harder than ever before.

Then, as we look over the events of the past year in our own Town, we recall honors brought to Arlington in January by Tina Noyes who skated her way to a place on the U.S. Olympic Skating team. During the same month, Mother Nature also brought us a gift, a northeaster with almost 16 inches of snow. Not to be outdone, February rang in with another major storm which brought snow removal costs to $100,000.

March was highlighted by our Town Meeting which covered 101 Articles in the Warrant. An increase in taxes was estimated by the Finance committee at $7.20 and Town Members voted pay raises to Town employees and the fire and police personnel.

Also voted at the Town Meeting was an appropriation of $10,000 to procure plans to build a skating rink in Arlington. The estimated cost was quoted at $750,000.

The Town Election for 1964 was held on Monday but future Elections will be held on Saturday, due to a vote at Town Meeting. Elected were John Balafer and Kevin Feeley as Selectmen and Charles Kent, Carl Allen and May Porteus were successful candidates for School Committee.

The actual tax rate was announced in April at $92.60 which was an increase of $8 over the previous year. This long-awaited news was soon overshadowed by the release of the proposed Arlington Center Commercial Development plan which gave our Town a new look, in the proposed plans, at least.

The Telephone Company announced in May that work was started on a transcontinental underground conduit line to provide a complete communication system to withstand emergencies. Then, one of our most distinguished native sons, "Uncle Sam" Wilson, went to the New York World's Fair, via an exhibit prepared by the Arlington Historical Society.

June brought graduations and Arlington Catholic High awarded diplomas to the first class of seniors to complete the four years at the new Catholic High school. Arlington High graduated a record 521 seniors and scholarship honors were also at a record high with thousands of dollars awarded selected graduates of both AHS and ACHS classes.

In July, the First Universalist church sold the edifice at 735 Mass. ave., to the Greek Community of Arlington for a reported sum of $75,000. The Universalists then, in a historic move, merged with the Unitarian congregation.

The Town was hit during July with a series of violent storms bringing record size hailstones. Lightning bolts hit twenty spots throughout Town with one fatality.

In August, the M.D.C. opened a $300,000 swimming pool to service residents of Arlington. Edward McCann, administrative assistant to Town Manager Edward C. Monahan left Arlington to become Town Manager in Holden.

School opened in September with the two-platoon system at AHS and enrollment at a record 8775. ACHS enrolled 615. Primaries brought victory to Campobasso, Dever, Khachadorian Pellegrini and Murray.

In October, State D.P.W. officials announce 39 Arlington homes to be taken for widening of Route 2 and a controversy starts which is still not settled.

November brought Legislative seats to Pellegrini, Khachadorian, Campobasso and Dever and approval was given to use voting machines on a trial basis for the March Town Election. A proposed plan to change the Town's 24 precincts was turned down and bids were opened for the 100-unit housing for the elderly to be built on Chestnut st.

December was quiet until an estimate was released indicating a tax rate to hit $100.

The addition to AHS was predicted to open early in February and the shoppers in the Center were treated to free bus service by the Chamber of Commerce and cooperating retail merchants.

Another year passes into history and one last note, births in Arlington were down with the figure set at 1299 for 1964, compared to 1354 for 1963. The tally is not final at the Town Clerk's office so we might still see another record set for new residents.

The past is gone, the present is here and the future beckons. The main thing to be considered, in looking back, is to question whether or not we did our best, collectively or individually. Much remains to be done; but, in words of old, no task is unsurmountable. And, three words might well be the key to success to each of us, Faith, Hope and Charity.

The best to all in 1965.

EMBLEM CLUB

Arlington Emblem Club No. 46 will hold the annual past presidents' dinner on Thursday, Jan. 21, at Elks' Home, Pond lane. Vice-president Claire Riley is chairman of the event.

Julie Cammarata is chairman of the scholarship dance, sponsored by the Arlington Emblem club, which will take place on Saturday, Jan. 23, at the Elks' Home.

Ancient Greece On Display

A display of articles on Ancient Greece is now in the entryway cases of the East Branch of the Robbins Library. Prepared by students of grade six at the Crosby school, under the supervision of the teacher, Miss Joan H. Dorgen, the display is attractive in color and ingenious in the use of materials.

Items include a relief map of ancient Greece and its surroundings, and several masks similar to those worn in Greek drama and representing various moods and emotions such as anger, tragedy, comedy, death and jealousy.

The East Branch of the Robbins Library is located at 175 Mass. ave. The display on Ancient Greece may be seen there through Jan. 22.

To the editor,

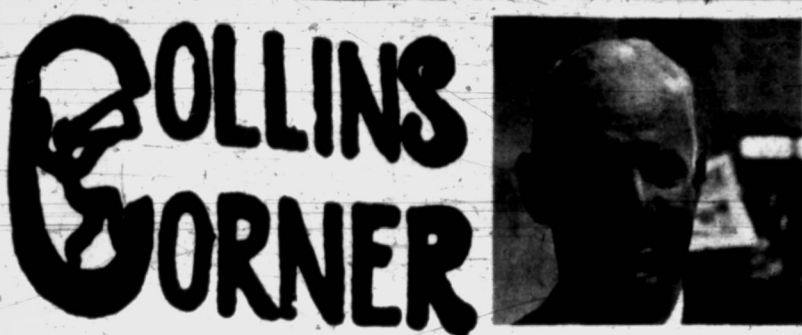

I am grateful to see some effort is being made to provide the Arlington voter with a choice of candidates in the coming election for Selectman. Nothing annoys me more than coming face-to-face with an uncontested ballot.

Arthur Saul (mentioned last week in Mat's column as a possible candidate) to oppose the incumbent would be an excellent choice. I hope the petitions now being circulated will touch Saul and he will have a change of heart and seek the office for which he is unquestionably fully qualified.

Sincerely,

Sam P. Battista

48 Melrose St.

It was a nice Sunday afternoon, and the TV football games were all put to bed; so, a "native" who had moved away and was in town for the week-end, suggested a trip around parts of the "old home town" after dinner. Down Gray st. to Pleasant he went, and at the foot of the street pointed out the home of John T. Trowbridge, Arlington's famous poet.

He mentioned that as a kid he would see the poet with his flowing white hair and beard, walking down the street and he really looked like a poet. In that home, he entertained Longfellow, Emerson, Whittier, and Holmes. And, he and Longfellow took many walks around what was known as Arlington Lake, now called Spy Pond.

And, just down the street was the residence of ex-Gov. John Quincy Adams Brackett. Directly opposite the home of ex-Gov. Endicott Saltonstall Peabody, who resided there when first married.

The "native" also pointed out the spot where the James O. Holt market stood; and next door was the residence of Dr. Hooker, who brought him into the world.

So, the tour proceeded around the corner to Mass. ave. and we parked the car near the site of LaBreques lunch cart, where for a dime you could get the finest fried-egg sandwich in the state, — with a little humor thrown in by Jim Bevins.

Over there, we reminisced, is where the Old Town Hall stood; and just in back, over the R.R. tracks was the Pierce and Winn coal yards, with the entrance on Mystic st. Also, on that street was a single track running to Winchester for street cars which stopped at the corner of Mass. ave., while the trolley was changed and the seats turned for the trip back, — with a switch near Morningside, and another on Church st. in Winchester.

And, there was the waiting room in O. M. Spragues' store where the largest ice cream cone, and the hardest candy could be bought for the sum of 5 cents. And speaking of waiting rooms, the folks in that period had it much better in stormy and cold weather than the modern generation do today at Harvard sq.

Also, down there where the Telephone Building is was Clark's livery stable, where you could rent a horse, hack, or carriage for weddings, funerals, wing-dings, and what-nots, for a very nominal fee. Across the street was the Russell school and playground, which was one of the busiest baseball fields in the town. There was a walk running from Chestnut st. up through the infirmary to Mystic st. and many a game was held up while some mother pushed her baby carriage up through the "game" on her way to the center.

Over there we continued in Hibernian Hall, at the corner of Chestnut and Mystic, and the "native" related a story that his folks told him. At one time, it was located on the Russell playground and was known as the Adams school, and they both attended the first grade there. The building was later sold and moved to its present location, and became known to all as Hibernian Hall, the home of the Ancient and Honorable Hibernians. It was there for years that some of the greatest games of '45 were played, plus famous tug-of-war contests, and some wonderful Irish social events. They also had a band, and played at all "17th of March" parades, special events, and torch light political rallies.

And, as the "native" stepped a bit closer, he read a new name over the door and as he walked slowly up Mystic st., he was heard to remark that times have really changed since he was a boy, and what an unusual history the Old Adams School has had.

To the editor,

Since the state's Conflict of Interests Law was originally enacted, I have watched to see how it would be enforced and what influence it would have on the ethical standards of state and local government.

As provided in the statute, the Board of Selectmen can designate certain town employees as "Special Employees", thereby providing them with immunity from certain provisions of the law.

In April of 1963, the Arlington Board of Selectmen of which I was not then a member exercised their powers under the Conflict of Interests Law. Most employees of our town remained as regular employees and are today subject to the full impact of the statute. Certain elective and appointive boards, committees etc. — were classified as "SPECIAL" employees.

I completely disagree with this decision of the prior Board of Selectmen. It is my feeling that since the Board has the power under the law to determine whether all the other elective, appointive and salaried employees should be "Regular" or "Special" employees, it should subject itself to the maximum effects of the Conflict of Interests Law.

Last Monday night, I felt that the time had arrived that this earlier action of the prior Board should be reversed. Board Chairman Bullock, who had been the only Selectman on the prior Board who consistently voted against naming the Selectmen as "SPECIALS", had just introduced a draft of a measure which would afford Arlington additional protection under the Conflict of Interests Law.

At that time, I introduced a motion which would remove the Selectmen from the "SPECIAL" status that they now enjoy. After some discussion, the motion was laid on the table. It will receive further discussion next week when I hope that it will be passed.

In any event, the voters of Arlington should understand quite clearly that I intend to continue this fight to put our Board under the maximum effects of the Conflict of Interests Law. If the motion fails to pass next week, then I will continue to bring it up from time to time in the hopes that it will eventually pass or until a higher authority over-

That Man About Town

By MAT

Sensitive politicians, office holders and public officials were de-sensitized by a historic decision of the U. S. Supreme Court last year (or was it some U. S. Superior Court?)

It had to do with the difficult problem of slander and libel. In summary, the court held: a) that the people have a basic right to criticize and, more important, b) that the charges do not have to be true, necessarily.

The charges cannot be completely fabricated with malicious intent but can be unfounded due to misinformation, misunderstanding or even honest suspicion.

We find that most people (who are interested) see this decision as having both good and bad aspects. Certainly, the "little guy" or the interested citizen should have the right to say and write what he has on his mind, as to public affairs and administration.

On the other hand, unfortunately there are those among us who are deliberate liars or who love to tear down the big man because, being small squirts, they are jealous.

So, the decision does pave a broad, public highway as to the intelligence, purpose and integrity of our officials and our citizens alike. (End of sermon, delivered Jan. 14th of the New Year.)

We'd like to pay our own tribute to the retiring president of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce, Les Coit who is also retiring from the Telephone Company. He was manager of the local office here for the past few years. Normally, we do not enter the field of business and commerce. But — as we have read in the local press — Mr. Coit and his officers and directors put the C. of C. into the wide area of civic responsibility.

Sorry, another sermon coming up! Have you ever bothered to notice how some companies somehow succeed in putting the right man in the right slot? And to quote a very good, current ad:

To the editor,

I have sent the following letter to Edward Monahan, Dr. Bert Roens, and the Arlington School Committee.

Being a member and Vice-Chairman of the Peirce School Heating Committee, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you and Mr. Campobasso, the custodian, for your splendid and successful efforts in alleviating (to my personal satisfaction), the heating problem at the Peirce School.

Having volunteered to serve on this Committee for the correction of the heating problem, I feel at this time, that this Committee has served its purpose. I am therefore tending my resignation to the Secretary of the Heating Committee.

With the marvelous cooperation we have received I am sure these efforts will continue until such time, when the heating system will be converted in 1966.

Sincerely,
Robert G. Lemos
607 Summer Street

"maybe you'd better think about it."

If former Selectman Arthur Saul does decide to run this year there exists a powerful precedence with Governor Volpe being re-crowned this week. The Saul vs Selectman John Bullock race would be a toughie, both to run and to pick. Bullock has strong appeal in many quarters and has dedicated workers.

However, let's not waste too much verbiage on this subject right now because Saul has not said anything yet. But, all those signatures petitioning him to re-run must have some weight. Also, we have a sneaking suspicion that one or two others may get ideas if Arthur should decide to challenge John.

In the School Committee contest, as we see it Mrs. O'Neill will be a definite threat to the seat now held by Mrs. Brown. From the preliminary publicity hand-outs, she has an impressive record in various civic organizations.

To the Editor,
Again, it is with a deep sense of gratitude that I express my thanks to you for the consideration which was extended, through the medium of your newspaper, to the many, many thousands of veterans and their dependents of Massachusetts during the past year.

In these trying days, many people forget the great and untold sacrifices made by the veterans of our country, and it is because of the publicity focused on them through friendly newspapers, such as yours, that we are being kept aware of their great sacrifices. Your efforts in the cause of the veteran are immeasurable.

One can point with justifiable pride to the intelligent and patriotic coverage of veterans' activities and problems by the newspapers of our great Commonwealth, and your contribution in this respect has not passed unnoticed. Your efforts are an expression of community interest and a service which is gratefully appreciated by the many thousands of veterans and their dependents.

With the sincere hope that the New Year will be a rewarding one for you and your staff, I am

Gratefully yours,
Charles N. Collatos

A Good Start For Future In Pee Wee Hockey

Pee Wee hockey in Arlington begins its seventh year of competition, and with one exception all coaches are local boys, who have grown up with the program since its inception in 1958.

Certainly, Supt. of Parks and Recreation, William P. Canty, has a right to be satisfied, and yes proud of this superb program, which unfortunately has been to some degree overlooked.

Let's examine the records: One hundred twenty boys in grades six, seven and eight comprise eight teams playing four games one day each week, Saturday, from 7 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. from December to March.

In 1961 Arlington won the M.D.C. tournament beating Melrose 5-3 in what some cognizant observers have called one of the best played and most fiercely contested hockey championship game they had ever seen on this level.

The next year saw Arlington again reach for the trophy only to lose in the finals. The developmental aspects have proven wonderful in producing first rate hockey talent for surrounding colleges, some boys actually forming the nucleus of their team's power drive on the ice.

Current college stars who began in the Arlington program include Bob Carl and Bob Fredo, Harvard; Bill Langone, Merrimack; Paul Donnelly, Boston State; Larry Cappello, Dayton; Allen Keirstead, Boston College; and Pete Lax, Colby.

Most of the boys currently playing for Arlington high school or Arlington Catholic high sharpened their hockey ability with their skates in Pee Wee Hockey.

Arlington's front line of Deveau, Ronan and Toczylowski all spent a year or more in the program.

Arlington's defense: Jim Smith, Jack Byrne and Bob Bartholomew, Pete Morse, and Bob Jorgensen all played in the program.

This obvious achievement and progress, like any other, is not accidental nor haphazard. If this be madness there's method to it. Mr. Canty stated his wholehearted approval of the program and the remarkable good fortune in acquiring superior coaching talent.

Two brothers, Robert and Richard Heavren, present the most impressive of records.

Robert, born and educated in Cambridge, is a graduate of Cambridge High and Latin, class of 1943. He was G.B.I. All-Team in 1942-43, United States National Team in 1947 and has participated in World Championship games played in Prague, Czechoslovakia. He was a member of the Boston Braves system in 1948-49 and has been Pee Wee coach since the organization was formed.

Richard, who coaches the Rockets, played for Cambridge Latin both in baseball and hockey from 1947 to 1950, captained the hockey team in 1949-50 and was picked for the hockey league All-Scholastic Team of 1949-50 and the Boston Globe Hockey Team, 1950. A member of the Arlington Arcadians from 1958 to 1962, he coached them to the United States National Amateur Senior Championship in 1963. Temporarily commercial, he played for the Bates Fabrics Hockey Team, Lewiston, Maine in 1959 and the Country Kitchen Bakers Team.

Lewiston, Maine in 1960.

"One could elaborate ad infinitum," mused Mr. Canty. "But before I'm accused of accumulating a list, which is part and parcel to the grocery store, not to athletics, let me simply state that I'm certain that people will understand the import of this extensive background."

These men personify the program: aggressive, rugged, competent, competitive; yet stressing fair play, emphasizing impeccable behavior and underlining the manly characteristics that are and should be natural outgrowths of the sport.

The response from parents has been both encouraging and heartening.

"They are the barometers," adds Mr. Tobin, Assistant Superintendent. "If the parents were ever dissatisfied, we would gauge the program accordingly. So far, however, we have had encomiums, not complaints. We are grateful." As Hamlet says, "The readiness is all," then Pee Wee Hockey is on solid ice.

Rocket 4 — Red Wings 0

Dave O'Leary launched the Rockets to a 4-0 win over the Red Wings as he blasted three goals into the Wing's net. Paul Donnelly notched the final goal for the Rockets as he banged Charlie Noyes' rebound home. Noyes also assisted on O'Leary's second goal. Mike Bilozur came up with some fancy stops in the Rockets' cage.

Bruins 3 — Rangers 2

Tom Prior led the Bruins to their first win as he scored twice and assisted on another goal. His second goal came with seconds left and broke up a 2-2 tie. This was the best game of the day. James O'Connell scored the first Bruins' goal as he tapped in Prior's rebound. Pat Flanagan scored the first Ranger goal on an assist from Jim Power. John Benkoski tallied the second Ranger goal assisted by Steve White and Johnny Ranauro.

Herb Richardson in the Bruins' net turned back the Rangers with several good saves.

Leafs 5 — Hawks 0

The Leafs swept over the Hawks with little trouble. Gerry Meiklejohn, strong Leaf wing, scored the first two with Jay Shaunessy picking up an assist on the first goal. John Jackson, Joe Ronan and Wayne Hale also dented the strings. Hale and Ronan assisted each other on their goals.

Steve Dulling looked sharp in the Leafs cage.

Maroons 6 — Canadiens 0

The Maroons looked strong as they rolled over the Canucks 6-0. Bernie Quinlan had the "hat trick" as he poured in three. Kevin Day had two goals and an assist and Dave Butler had a goal and an assist. Gary Ogden got his first as he banged his own rebound into the net.

Tom Egan and Art Brown both made some fine stops in the goals.

Harvard Trust Opens 6th Branch Office

A completely new Harvard Trust office near Fresh Pond will open for business next Monday morning at 8:30 a.m. This sixth and newest Cambridge office of Harvard Trust is located at 615 Concord ave., just around the corner from the former Alewife Brook Parkway address. Banking hours will be 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Customers and friends throughout the area are invited to visit during opening week. Free refreshments will be served, and key chains presented. Basically a motor bank, the new office is more accessible from the roadway, and offers much more parking space. Two drive-up windows have been constructed at strategic angles to facilitate the approach and departure of motor traffic. The attractively and comfortably furnished interior is more spacious, and provides more privacy for discussing confidential bank transactions. The exterior represents a contemporary blending of brick and glass. A night depository is situated at the front of the building.

Manager of the Fresh Pond office is John M. Lahiff, a 20-year veteran with Harvard Trust. He was formerly manager of the Cushing sq. Belmont office. Head teller is Robert Gray, who also serves as chairman of the Bank's junior advisory board.

This opening follows very closely on the heels of that of the Technology sq. office, midway between Central and Kendall sq. in Cambridge, at the corner of Portland and Main streets.

Harvard Trust now serves Cambridge with six conveniently located offices. Another six are in Arlington, Belmont, Concord, and Littleton.

KNOW YOUR MERCHANTS

ERNEST SIMPSON has been owner-treasurer of Arlington Hardware, Inc., 192 Mass. ave., since May 15, 1964. He has been in the hardware business for many years at other locations. His hobbies are photography, rifles, and target shooting. A new member of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce, Simpson states that besides being a well-stocked hardware store, Arlington Hardware offers many services. These services include renting, repairing, and delivering hand and power tools; repairing small appliances; cutting window glass to size and replacing it; making keys to order; repairing locks; and making and installing made-to-order aluminum storm windows.

rules our power to take action in this case.

I have been informed that a bi-partisan bill sponsored by the Attorney General and Representative Cornelius Kiernan has been filed with the legislature. This bill (H.B. 2201) provides that all alderman, city councillors, selectmen and certain other municipal employees in communities with more than 1000 population would henceforth be ineligible to hold the status of "SPECIAL" municipal employees. I wholeheartedly support this measure and am further informed that chances for its passage look good.

And so, the Board of Selectmen in Arlington is faced with an important decision. It can reclassify itself as being subject to the maximum provisions of this law and its maximum provisions?

As a lawyer, as a politician, as a Selectman and perhaps even as an idealist—I am well aware of the obscure interests that move silently in the background of this issue. Prudence has dictated the action I have already taken.

In the hope that this question will soon be resolved by the Selectmen placing themselves under the maximum provisions of the Conflict of Interest Law, I am:

Very truly yours,
John J. Bilafer
Selectman,
Town of Arlington

Clippers Win

The St. Agnes Clippers edged Melrose 4 to 3 at McHugh Forum Sunday in a real squeaker.

Mike O'Hara tallied from the face off in 14 seconds on a quick pass from Barry Wright, and his teammate Jim Scanlon scored the first of his three goals before the period ended with assist from Chester Brine.

In the second period the Melrose club had three goals and started the third period with a 3 to 2 lead.

The last period saw the Clippers high scorer, tally two goals within three minutes to put the locals out ahead 4 to 3.

Jim Scanlon is the teams high scorer with 6 goals and 3 assists.

MARY H. LANDERS

Funeral services for Mary H. (Alexander) Landers, conducted by Dr. Robert Slaughter, pastor of the First Baptist church, were held at the Berglund Funeral Home, Mrs. Landers died on Jan. 10, after nearly two years confinement in a nursing home.

The Landers home was on Bartlett ave., where she and her son Arthur lived many years. Besides a church group, Mrs. Landers was a late member of the Arlington Woman's club and the local chapter of the Florence Crittenton league.

She is survived by her son, Arthur, a music instructor at Exeter academy, Exeter, N. H. and two granddaughters.

A.C.H.S. Girls Outlasted 28-26

Bishop Fenwick high school girls of Peabody outlasted the Arlington Catholic girls 28-26, in a double-overtime tilt last week.

The local girls, led by Mal Kelley's 12 points, held a four point 20-16 lead with three minutes to play, only to see the winners tally eight quick markers to lead 24-20 with a minute and fourteen seconds left in regulation time.

However, Miss Kelley and Kathy Hogan dropped in key buckets at that point to send the game into overtime.

Fenwick moved ahead 26-24, but once again Mal Kelley scored the key basket to send the game into another overtime period.

are not under Town Manager form of government and did perform "contractual functions".

Selectman Horace Homer pointed out that the previous board which did vote the "special" designation, did so after much deliberation. A factor, he added, effecting the final vote, was the fact that the Arlington Board of Selectmen do not have anyone over them.

At this point, Chairman made with a simple no-frame latchhook technique. Designs for formal and casual living will be featured in the special showing, and the hooked rug expert will offer guidance in rug hooking as well as tips on decorating.

Hours on Thursday for the demonstrations are continuous from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. On Friday, from 11:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Bullock voiced the opinion that in the interpretation of law, that the Town Council was in a sense "over the Board".

Bullock continued the discussion by stating that he was of the opinion that there was no valid reason why the present board should not subject themselves to the full designation of law. He thought that by not so doing, the board opened another area for public criticism. He added that he wanted the entire matter clarified and explained — as completely as possible to the general public.

Homer suggested that the designation would not make much difference since criticism is an "occupational hazard". He also stated that he felt that a committee as described by Bullock might eventually be called a "white-wash" committee.

Bilafer again made the motion that the board reconsider the action of the previous board.

Greeley asked Bilafer if he wanted to make the motion without a full explanation of the law.

Bilafer stated that his point was that the "lesser designation" in the intent of the law was "special employee" and he felt that the Board should be held to the maximum designation.

Selectman Kevin Feeley stated that he for one was not ready to vote since he had not made a thorough study of the law and requested the motion be tabled. He also suggested that the board discuss the matter with the Town Council.

Greeley suggested that the issue be settled by obtaining the signatures of ten registered voters and inserting an Article into the Town Warrant.

Meters Studied

Cost estimates for proposed installation of 15 double parking meters in the Russell Common parking area has been referred to Town Manager Edward C. Monahan by the Board of Selectmen.

It was proposed to install the meters adjacent to Chestnut st., and St. Agnes church property. These would be the "25 cent — all day parking" type.

No action was taken on a proposal to install similar meters on Town-owned property adjacent to the Winslow st. parking lot.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Francis Hogan, of Arlington and Marblehead, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Mary, to Lt. John Francis Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Mullen, also of Arlington.

Both are graduates of Arlington High school, class of 1959. Margaret is also a graduate of Emmanuel College and is teaching in Arlington.

Lt. Mullen received his degree in Chemistry at Northeastern University and is currently serving in the United States Army at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

GOLDEN AGE CLUB

Golden Agers, numbering 156, gathered on Jan. 7, in Fellowship hall for the regular meeting. Greeters at the door were Mrs. Agnes Ellard, Alice Macaulay and Harry I. Mills.

Members of the Blind circle were special guests. Their leader, Mrs. Ann Gibson, outlined circle activities upon request.

In the absence of Claudia Peterson, Mrs. Bailey was at the piano during the singing of the theme song, led by John Mansfield. Mrs. Macaulay read the thought for the day.

Reports were read by Mrs. Ellen Merrill, Miss Theresa Day, who made a special plea for volunteers to the Sewing group; and Mrs. Emma Cartmel, friendly chairman.

Mrs. Thomas gave a comprehensive story of the afternoon spent by 90 members at the Ice Capades. Walter Jones, vice-pres., announced several trips in the offing, including Ice Follies, "My Fair Lady", the Flower Show and others.

Entertainment was furnished by the Paul Revere Golden Age club, in their tenth year appearance. These five grandmothers delighted the audience as they played on the set of 47 English Handbells.

Margaret Buri's soprano voice added to the enjoyment in some of the numbers. In some of the more familiar tunes, the audience hummed along.

New members greeted by Mrs. Harold B. Wood, president, included Mrs. F. Austin, 2 Huntington rd.; Miss Mildred A. Evans, 224 Mass. ave.; Mr. and Mrs. George R. MacMaster, 72 Menotomy rd.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Benson, 11 Sherman st., Lexington, former Arlington residents; and Harry L. Edwards, 33 Grafton st.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Tina Fisetto, Miss Frances Walton and Mrs. Mills.

A staff member of the Visiting Nurse association will outline the work of her group, accompanied by pictures at the meeting on Jan. 21, same time, same place. Anyone over 62 may attend.

(Important Notice)

Because of continual rising costs, the Advocate announces a nominal charge for publishing pictures of brides and those engaged; also appointments and promotions of personnel by business concerns. EFFECTIVE DATE IS AUGUST 1, 1964.

The policy of the paper is to print pictures of engagements and business announcements, one column in width; brides, two columns.

Fees will be: $2.00 for one column; $4.00 for two columns in width. If original pictures are to be returned, please include a stamped, self-return envelope of appropriate size, with a check or money order for the above amounts.

A survey of many weekly papers shows that these nominal charges are not unusual.

ST. AGNES HNS

James Drumme of Norwood will speak on the topic, "Communism, Reality or Myth" next Sunday at the meeting of the St. Agnes Holy Name society.

After receiving Communion at the seven o'clock mass in the church, the Holy Name members will go to the school hall for the meeting.

A 1960 graduate of Boston College, Drumme has been a student of Communism. He is a former treasurer of the Archdiocesan Young Adult council. As a member of the Chi-Rho Panel on Communism, he spoke at St. Agnes' several years ago.

In his announcement of the speaker, president John R. Tortelli of the Holy Name recalled the words of Cardinal Cushing, "Every liberty loving person should know Communism and unite with others to stop its progress. Otherwise our freedom will be transformed into slavery."

The speaker for the February meeting will be Father Charles K. VonEuw, Professor at St. John's Seminary and Theologian to Cardinal Cushing at the Vatican Council. He will speak on the Council.

Arlington Catholic Point Away

Only one point now separates Arlington Catholic high school's hockey entry and front-running Xavier high of Concord as the result of the locals 2-1 victory over the league-leaders at the Arena this past weekend.

After a scoreless first period Bill Cronin of Xavier dented the nets for his team with the assist credited to Brian Curry.

In short order Jim Bourke of Arlington tied the score with his tally. Don Coleman had an assist on the goal.

After six minutes were played in the final period Charlie Houghton of Catholic scored to give his team an upset victory.

Amorock the goalie for Catholic had to make many fine saves as Coach Jack Cusack's club pressed hard for the equalizer.

Coach Jack Carney's club is now even with his Concord rivals, Xavier won the first game earlier in the season 3 to 0.

The third game will be played in February and Arlington Catholic will have to win if they expect to top the league.

Catholic will play Sacred Heart of East Boston this Sunday.

Waltham Bows To AHS

Arlington high school's hockey team, minus the seniors who were taking exams, defeated the Waltham underclassmen 4-1 at the Arena Saturday in the non-league contest.

Kelley of Waltham scored at the three minute mark when he took a leading pass from Bastache to light the lamp for his team's only goal.

John Allessandri made it one all when he scored from in close, unassisted at the nine minute mark. At the period's end it was on all.

The second period saw Arlington move out front when John Deyaux scored. Bob Havern received credit for an assist. This was the only score of the second period.

Arlington high-scoring forward Steve Donnelly dented the nets for a goal in the third period with Bob Havern and John Deyaux getting assists.

Dennis Sullivan scored the fourth, and final goal, Donnelly and Deyaux making assists.

The Arlington forwards were in the Waltham zone most of the afternoon for-ing the "Watch City" goalie to make 27 saves while the local goalie had it rather easy being called on to make 14 stops.

The league coaches tried to pair up teams of equal strength and only succeeded in the Medford-Cambridge Latin match which ended in a 2 to 2 draw.

J.V.'s Win Pair From Melrose

Coach Jack Byrne's hustling junior varsity hockey team twice beat old time rival Melrose in the past few days. Charlie Costa and Ted Bowser scored goals as the locals edged the "Raiders" 2-1 at Andover, and then Bob Haven turned in the "hat trick" as Arlington once again won, this time a 7-0 count.

Other Arlington goals in the second contest were scored by Dennis Sullivan, Bob Bartholomew, Charlie Costa and Jack Byrne.

The defensive work of Bartholomew, Byrne, Corkery and DiStefano kept the Melrose team shooting from out near the blue line.

Apprille and Driscoll combined effectively in the nets to chalk up the shutout.

Frosh Stopped

It took a former Arlington boy from the East End J. Rayerote to drop the freshman hockey team from the undefeated class by his last minute goal, which gave Medford a tie this week.

The first period saw both teams firing plenty of shots at each other goal but the red light never went on and the period ended without a score.

The fine work of Eddie Walsh kept Arlington out front until the last minute when Medford registered the tying tally.

The "Frosh" now have a 3-0-1 record for the season and are still tied for first place in the Frosh League.

Archbishop Williams will oppose Coach Eddie Mahoney's club Saturday morning at 9 A.M. at the Arena.

SCHOOL and SPORTS

by Hal O'Brien

The A.H.S. teams continue to win: The hockey team defeated Waltham. The Gym team edged out Weymouth. The J.V. hockey team had two wins in a week over Melrose. The freshmen took Archbishop Williams in hockey scoring eight goals to win 8 to 0, the track team won from North Quincy and now the Girls Basketball team is getting into the act with a 27 to 26 win over the Melrose girls.

Two of Arlington Catholic's teams had victories — the basketball team and the hockey club defeated Xavier to move to within one point of first place in the New Catholic League.

Although it is not an Arlington team Christopher Columbus High of East Boston is coached by Warren Lewis, 5* Hawthay circle. Warren's team won the class B championship last night at McHugh Forum.

Dick Dawicki one of his forwards was singled out for special honors. Dick's brother is employed here in the Arlington Post Office.

Arlington's Tom Apprille playing goal for the Eastern Nationals held the Wnolpe Sweepers to 4 goals last night at the "Four Seasons" Rink. Tom is making a great bid to be the goalie on the Olympic hockey team.

Boston College high is another school well represented by Arlington boys, three of our boys had a hand in the B.C.H. win over Boston English.

With the hockey program in this town the boys have to go to outside schools to play. Too bad that Coach Eddie Burns can only carry a small squad.

The football team received a fine tribute from a Brain-tree couple last fall but I doubt if any finer one was ever given to a school boy.

Frank McCauley the Boston Arena Hockey Statistician said "I've never seen a better competitor than Arlington's Chuck Toczylowski, in my 17 years here. And he's a perfect gentleman to boot."

Knowing Frank and the dealings he has had with athletes no boy ever received a better tribute. Hats off to "T.D." as his classmates call him and to his parents and coaches.

Melrose High's hockey team continues to dominate the Middlesex league with an 8 and 0 record. Art Blanchard who played his hockey here is Coach Henry Hughes very capable assistant. Hope that our varsity team will do as well against Melrose in the State tourney as the J.V.'s did last week with it two wins over the junior Red Raiders.

Billy Langone the Merrimack freshman goalie held Harvard to four goals at Watson Rink last week. Playing opposite Bill were Bob Fredo and Bob Carr for Harvard. Carr was credited with an assist on one of the goals. Bills team won 8 to 4. A feat upset as the Crimson Frosh were undefeated up to this game.

Buddy Clark was credited with an assist for the B.C. Freshmen in his team's win over B.U. Joe Norberg of Arlington who played his hockey at B.C.H. plays defense on Buddy's club.

Art Byrne the Boston College defenseman is a nephew of John Byrne who coaches the Arlington J.V. hockey team, heads the Pee Wee hockey program and the dad of one of the high school team's new defensemen. Art plays the same type of hockey that his uncle did for B.U. years back.

Coach Bear Bryant who tutored Joe Nameyth the $400,000 New York Jet's new quarterback also coached Bill Neighbors and Babe Parelli. The Pats have not signed many of the high priced boys as the team does not seem to be in the market for big names.

The Celtics continue to win so we will have at least one championship club in the Hub this year.

The Arena or Rink Commission held a meeting last week, but Chairman Arthur Saul has not released any information up to today.

Next week's paper should have quite an article about the Adult program by the Park Dept.

ST. CAMILLUS BOWLING

Notre Dame is back on top in the St. Camillus Holy Name Bowling League followed closely by Merrimack. Four teams, Lovola, Boston College, Fordham, and St. Michael's are within three points of each other in the battle for third place.

Ed Kelly holds his average lead with a 103 mark, followed by Gene Leahy and Henry Steele, 102 and Pete Oberio 101 and Bob Rivand, 100.

Trackmen Win Fourth

Girls Honored At Elks Banquet

The Arlington Sportsman's Club tendered a banquet to the undefeated Arlington High School Field Hockey team Sunday night at the Elks Home.

After a fine roast beef dinner served by the committee the entire squad received medals in appreciation for their undefeated season.

Coach Mary McDonough made the presentations. At the head table were Dr. and Mrs. Campobasso; Mrs. Florenza, assistant coach; Charlie Kent, chairman of the school committee; Mary Bertagna, John Bullock, chairman of the Board of Selectmen and Hal O'Brien, local sports writer.

Receiving medals were Capt. Judy Rizzo, Sandy Banks, Nancy Whitaker, Mary Ann Doble, Betsy Cole, "Pixie" Sedoff, Pat Whitehouse, Susan Clark, Pat Fitzgerald, Barbara Arena, Jane Dumas, who were the 11 starters for the team.

The following subs Pat Morello, Cathy Cronin, Jane Whitney, Rose Wiseman, Joan Proctor, Cindy Shea, Barbara Leluch, Connie Cole, Pat Herlihy, Natalie Elm, Batty Farinosa, Nancy Good, Nancy Milne, Barbara Goni, June Collins and Julie Fusco, also were given medals.

A large number of parents, friends and fans were present on a real stormy night.

The Arlington High Track team won its fourth straight meet of the season defeating North Quincy 57 to 29 at the new Northeastern Gym last week.

The following boys scored for Arlington. Tom Spengler won the mile and John Dacey finished third.

Pete Thorpe came in a close second in the two mile. Pete Chalpin won the high jump with a leap of five feet eight inches.

Kevin O'Riley and Jay Donahue finished one and two in the thousand yard run and Bob Fisher and Don Hamilton tied the same in the six hundred. Both of the boys are improving their times as the season goes on.

Dan Kelley won the three hundred with his best effort this year, with Jim Tiede in third position.

Arlington scored a clean sweep in the shot put when Charlie Gott, Ray Alberg and Bob Gill finished one-two-three in that order.

Bob Webb won the 45 yard dash and Lee Pearson was right behind him when he fell, so he did not score.

Dick Derby was second and Bill Matheson third in the 40 yard hurdles.

At the BAA Meet at the Boston Garden Saturday, Spengler, Kelley, Fisher, and Webb will represent the local track team.

The track team will compete against Watertown Jan. 23 at the M.I.T. cage.

Adult Program

Northeastern University's unique program to help adult women resume their education enters its second semester at the Suburban Campus in Burlington next month with an interesting sidelight—the more than 400 women enrolled have been joined by 24 men.

Far from being overawed by the preponderance of women, the men are finding their presence pleasant and appreciated, according to Miss Virginia Bullard, N.U.'s director of special programs for women.

A number of the males come from industries in the neighboring Route 128 electronics complex and the technical knowledge and personal observations they provide—particularly in such courses as "Computer Programming" and "Man's Physical Universe"—add another perspective to the matters covered.

The program was and is primarily designed for the needs of adult women, particularly those with school-age children. The classes are scheduled in the morning and early afternoon to make it possible for the education-minded housewives to attend classes while their children are away at school.

The male interest in the program points up a heretofore unrecognized demand for daytime educational programs for men whose circumstances of employment make it possible for them, said Miss Bullard.

In addition to taking the campus to the suburbs where the women live, Northeastern's Suburban Campus is offering the women the courses in daytime hours, and providing part-time curricula, modification of entrance requirements, and scheduling classes for similar interest groups,

"Adult women would be less interested in resuming their education if they had to be assimilated into existing daytime classes with young people," Miss Bullard discovered.

Undergraduate degree credit programs to be offered during the semester to get underway next month are "Principles of Sociology," "Advanced Creative Writing," "General Psychology," "English I and II," "Elementary French," "Man and his Physical Universe," "American Drama," "Aspects of Romantic Music," "American Foreign Policy," "Intro-

Net Income

New England Electric System estimates consolidated net income for the full year 1964 of about $21,000,000. This is equal to $1.50 a share compared to $1.56 earned in 1963.

Chairman William Webster also reports that with the completion in 1964 of the second 250,000 kilowatt unit at the Brayton Point steam electric generating station in Somerset, Massachusetts, there will be no major expenditures for additional generating capacity during the next three years.

Construction expenditures by subsidiaries are expected to approximate $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 annually during this three year period and will be mainly for extensions and improvements to transmission and distribution systems.

RON WILSON, formerly of Arlington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilson, of Glen ave., is shown above with Mrs. Wilson and family, Ken, Todd and Heather. Wilson is a graduate of Arlington High school, Gordon college and Syracuse University school of Journalism.

A human explosion just south of the United States border poses staggering problems, not only for the people there, but for North American Christians. The fastest growing area in the world today is tropical South America. In the next twenty years, the population of the nine northern-most nations of that continent will double—and almost half of this population is now under fifteen.

With such an amazing increase, the printed page takes on an immense significance in reaching Latin American youth with the gospel of Jesus Christ. As thousands of our young neighbors to the south learn to read, they grasp books, magazines, tracts—any material they can get their hands on—and pore over it, then pass it on.

Into this setting, Youth for Christ is sending a missionary journalist, Ron Wilson, to train a national staff to edit and distribute a Christian youth magazine, Juventud Para Cristo (Youth for Christ), and get it into all corners of the continent. In the past three years, Ron has directed the literature work in this country for Youth for Christ International, editing Youth for Christ magazine and beginning two new magazines, Teen Scene and Impact. In January, 1965, he will leave with his family for Lima, Peru, where he will begin his work to reach Latin American youth for Jesus Christ. This is Project Juventud.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Sunday service of January 17, 1965.

The way in which the immortality of life becomes a reality for every individual will be explored in the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Life," and it is keynoted by the Golden Text from Galatians (6:8): "He that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting."

The theme is amplified by this passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Being is holiness, harmony, immortality. It is already proved that a knowledge of this, even in small degree, will uplift the physical and moral standard of mortals. will increase longevity, will purify and elevate character. Thus progress will finally destroy all error, and bring immortality to light" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 492).

MATIGNON GUILD
Matignon Guild will meet at Matignon High School, Cambridge, on Thursday Jan. 14 at 8 p.m.

The evening is planned for all parents and will also feature a cake sale in the cafeteria.

National Bank Adds to Board of Directors

William Fitzmaurice

Karl Weiss, Jr.

Robert Stevens

Three young businessmen have been appointed to the Board of Directors of the Arlington National Bank.

The announcement came after the Annual Meeting of the Bank held Tuesday of this week.

Named to the Board are Robert P. Stevens, 31, 51 Samoset rd., Winchester; William R. Fitzmaurice, 37, 6 Mt. Vernon st. and Karl E. Weiss, Jr., 143 Jason st.

In other action at the Tuesday meeting, Karl E. Weiss was re-elected president and William R. Driscoll, vice-president, H. D. Stevens and Henry J. Shea were elected vice-presidents, Miah Kearney cashier and James H. McGuinness, assistant cashier.

Robert P. Stevens is married and the father of three children. He was graduated from Arlington high school in 1950; Worcester Academy, 1951 and received his B.A. in Economics from Yale University in 1956.

He has been in the building and real estate business since 1954 with offices located at 729 and 733 Mass. ave.

William Fitzmaurice is married and the father of five children. He attended Arlington schools and Franklin Technical Institute.

He is a master electrician and is treasurer of the William F. Fitzmaurice Inc., Electrical Contractors and is a trustee of the Lakeview Realty Trust and the Continental Realty Trust. He is a member of the Arlington Touchdown Club, Arlington Knights of Columbus and the Winchester Country Club.

Karl E. Weiss, Jr. is single. He attended the Belmont Hill school, and received his B.A. degree in International Relations at Lehigh U. in 1959.

He served in the U.S. Navy from 1960 through 1963 and presently is a lieutenant in the USN Reserve. Presently, he is Vice-President of the New England Lead Burning Co., Inc., corrosion and X-ray protection services.

In discussing the activities of the bank during the past year, President Weiss noted that a branch bank had been opened on Mass. ave., at the Lexington line and was progressing smoothly under the direction of Kenneth West, and that a new parking lot had been added between Mystic st. and Water st. and adjacent to the B&M Railroad tracks.

He also noted that the "Time-Sales" Dept. under the direction of James McGuinness had outgrown its present quarters on the main floor of the Center bank, and as of this week has expanded into modern quarters in the basement of the building.

A complete list of those serving on the Board of Directors at the National Bank includes: Louis T. Boucher, Francis A. Coughlin, William R. Driscoll, William R. Fitzmaurice, Joseph P. Greeley, William B. Hauser, Miah Kearney, Henry J. Shea, Lloyd I. Small, Jr., Herbert D. Stevens, Robert P. Stevens, Karl E. Weiss, Karl E. Weiss, Jr. and Gardy Yagian.

Twenty-five legislative chairmen of the Seventh District of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs met at the home of Mrs. Elwyn E. Mariner, 199 Park ave., last Friday morning for a round table discussion on legislation and for study of certain bills filed for this session of the Legislature which lie within the scope of interest of the Federation.

Presiding at the district meeting was Mrs. W. Robert Kilbourn, state chairman of legislation. Mrs. Americo Chaves, first vice-president of the State Federation and Representative Janet K. Starr of Belmont were the principal speakers.

Under special consideration were bills having to do with library aid, safety, gambling and state lotteries, and truth-in-credit.

GRACE D. CURRY

Grace Dwelley Curry, wife of Fred H. Curry, died in her home at 76 Hillside ave., on Jan. 2, after a long illness. She would have been 84 years of age on Jan. 14.

Mrs. Curry was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Dwelley, 146 Park ave., now the Park ave. Nursing home.

After graduating from public schools, Mrs. Curry accepted a position with the Provident Institution of Savings, Boston. In 1907, she became the bride of Fred H. Curry. The couple moved to distant Michigan, where Mr. Curry was associated with the Hudson Motor company. They later moved to Dayton, Ohio.

Upon her return to Arlington, Mrs. Curry became assistant to Miss Alice Homers in her Dancing School and at Miss Homers' death, she took over the school where she taught for many years. She was later partner with her son, Russell, in his many dance classes until she was stricken with illness.

She was a charter member of the Dance Teachers school, later an honorary member, having served in official capacities of the club.

On Dec. 24, as was her custom for many years, Mrs. Curry received her friends. They all were shocked to learn of her death on Jan. 2.

Services were held at St. Charles chapel on Jan. 6, conducted by Rev. Canaday, pastor of the Park Ave. Congregational church.

Besides her husband, she is survived by sons, F. Herchel Curry, Jr. of Satellite Beach, Fla.; Russell D. Curry of Boston; brothers, Charles T. Dwelley of Brentwood, Calif.; and George Dwelley of Melbourne, Fla. Interment was in the family lot at Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

RAINBOW MOTHERS

The Rainbow Mothers will meet on Wednesday, Jan. 20 at 7:30 p.m. at Robbins Library hall. Walter Johnson, Clair representative, will speak and show pictures on "The Wonderful World of Color."

Overheard during peak holiday vacation rush at Boston's Museum of Science, woeful small boy to elevator operator: "Sir, did a lady get on here without me?"

Mrs. Ariel A. Thomas, president of the Arlington Heights Study club, presided at the table during the coffee hour.

Representing the Arlington Woman's club were Mrs. J. Philip Bower, vice-president; and Mrs. Joseph Barbano, legislative chairman. Mrs. John A. Pierce, president, and Miss Kathryn Yerlinton, represented the Kensington Park Study club. Mrs. Hartwell Flemming, Mrs. Nils Langkjen, Mrs. Elwyn Mariner and Mrs. Ariel A. Thomas, president, represented the Arlington Heights Study club.

Also represented were clubs from Belmont, Everett, Concord, Waltham, Somerville and Lexington. Mrs. Bernard Kummel, formerly of Park Avenue, was a guest.

Does Local Youth Need Help?

Despite it all — Arlington youth is still in need of help. A serious statement, one which probably will be challenged by many.

In the past half decade, the Town of Arlington has been paid higher tribute, its system copied and envied by communities far and near — yet there is still more to be done.

The very fact that Youth Services Director Arthur Johnson told the Board of Selectmen, at a recent meeting that 123 Arlington youngsters, both boys and girls were being given help with their problems, more than points up this need.

Johnson, at the same meeting answered a question of a member of the Board that close to 500 youngsters will need such help over a five year period.

Every community has its problems with youth. But many, because of economical and social conditions are expected to have such problems.

Other communities are not looked on as problem areas. Arlington must be classified as one of the latter, because when compared with many neighboring communities, the juvenile record here is outstanding.

Hurrah For Us

When talk turns to communities with clean closets and well-swept floors, Arlington generally is mentioned in the top strata — in the operation of the government of the community, the operation and rating of the school system, and in the conduct of both parents and youngsters who make all this possible.

So everyone in Arlington says "hurrah for us." Well, this writer says "hurrah for us" too, but at the same time if we sit quietly by and "hurrah" long enough, and stop acting, very shortly our overall rating must suffer.

The answer is a very simple one, "when the thieves come to take the horse, be ready for them with preventive action, don't wait till there is nothing left but hay in the barn before closing the doors."

And so it is with our youth problems in Arlington. Maybe we are at the top of the list, maybe our system is to be envied and copied, but it will remain that way only so long as the proper attitude and action of the residents of the community continues.

How many youngsters do we have in town under 21 years of age? Somewhere in the vicinity of 20,000, possibly more. (latest census figures will prove this out).

Thus the very few who seem to need assistance each year is but a small percentage of the entire population of youngsters.

This seems true — but what of those who got away? What of those youngsters who "got away" because the "signs" of delinquency were not noted in time, or if they were noted, ignored or hidden by parents?

Youth Feature

The material which is included in the pages of this series relative to the youth of Arlington has been written by news personnel of Arlington's leading newspapers — the Arlington Advocate and the Arlington News-Press.

The information contained has been drawn from the most authoritative sources within the community.

The purpose of the material which appears this week and which will appear in future weeks is to make residents of the community very much aware that juvenile problems do exist in fact in the Town of Arlington.

However, it is hoped that the manner in which such problems were solved in the past, the manner in which they are being solved at the present time, and the manner in which they may be solved in the future may be explained to the readers of this paper in such a way so that parents in Arlington may be prepared to cope with them in the best possible manner.

It is also hoped that parents may also know what to do and not hesitate in making appropriate action if problems such as will be explained in these pages arise during the course of their family life.

Further, it is hoped that the publication of these initial articles will stimulate readers to air their views and opinions relative to the subject matter appearing in this series of articles.

COMPLETES TESTS

Marine Private John W. Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Lowe of 9 Grove st., recently completed a week of testing and screening at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.

During the week, he received a battery of aptitude tests and was interviewed to determine his eligibility for technical training to prepare him for duties with the Aviation Branch of the Marine Corps.

To Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Mignanello (Mary Ann Piacitelli), 15 Rawson rd., a daughter, Dec. 28, at Symmes.

Too Late Then

What of those who even now at early ages are exhibiting problem symptoms, but who can't be reached because of fear by the parents that their youngsters will be "stamped" as different?

What of those whose symptoms are already reaching the action stage? What do we do with all of these?

Do we simply ignore them? Do we try to help them, or do we chalk them up as "bad kids"?

A little to think about, is it not?

And if we do think about it long enough we can't stand still and allow things to get worse.

We are living in a different age — an age which because of its speeded up demands is placing temptation closer for even the "best" child.

Whenever, the "signs" are there, we as parents are obliged to act.

It is our duty first — not the duty of the school, the police or of one of the youth organizations of the town. For if we do not act first, it won't be long before these other groups will note the signs and have to take action. By that time the problem will have become acute.

Three Answers

At this point this writer would like to pause and read some minds — there are no doubt now those who are addressing their thoughts to this paper, the writer and those who have supplied the writer with some of the material which will appear in this series.

They are thinking "Here go the do-gooders again." "A boy is a boy and is bound to do this little things. Didn't you as a child?"

"He is my child, I'll bring him up the way I see fit. Why don't they mind their own business?"

Just commenting on these three statements. "Certainly anyone has to be a do-gooder to attempt to help others. But there are two classes of do-gooders — those who do good because it is the right thing to do and because it adds to their social status to be connected with these projects — and those who do good because they sincerely want to help the youth of their community and are interested in making their town the best through such a course of action."

To the second statement — naturally our youngsters can't be kept in a glass-cage. They are not perfect, do things wrong and need through punishment to be guided back on the straight and narrow once again. But when they do go just one step beyond that "growing up" stage and step into the problem area, then you as a parent should take quick note — and act.

To the third — yes he or she may be your child, and should be disciplined by you without outside interference — to a point. This point being when that child offends others or interferes with the rights of others. Then it is up to someone else to step in if you as a parent won't take proper action or seek help.

In the next few weeks through the medium of this publication this writer and others will present Arlington Youth — both pretty and ugly.

If you wish to believe only the good and hope that the bad will go away, then take off your glasses and make this your last sentence.

On the other hand if you are a parent interested in your family and your community, stay with us during the following weeks.

There are many things to discuss.

Two of these will be highlighted in the Jan. 28 issue of this paper:

"Does your twelve year old drink?"

"Is vandalism worth $50,000?"

by: Rep. Janet K. Starr
Your Legislature is off and running and as they used to say in Brooklyn, "next year" perhaps the Republican leadership can be changed. But that is now passed business and the members such as myself who felt the Party needed a change will accept the majority verdict and settle down to make the Republican minority as effective as we possibly can.

I write this before committee assignments are announced, but Speaker Davenport, as predicted, has turned the minority party assignments over to Mr. Curtiss and our leader will select the Republicans on the various committees. There are some indications that Mr. Curtiss intends to try to heal the breach; the committee assignments will tell the story.

Our first Bulletin is out listing about 4000 petitions that have been filed, assigned to committees and await hearings. As soon as committee assignments are known the chairmen will begin to schedule the hearings. Each committee has a regular meeting day and place, such as education meets Monday and Wednesday at 10:30 in Room 480; Metropolitan Affairs meets Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 10 in Room 207. So, any of you who are interested in a particular field can know definitely when these hearings are held.

Each afternoon around 3:30 or 4 a "daily" is published which announces the particular petitions that are going to be heard on the following day and the weekly bulletin lists scheduled hearings as far ahead as the editor has the information.

Taxes are a major item that must be dealt with. Last year I wrote that one of our difficulties stems from the fact that our committees, composed of Senators and Representatives, have to deal with very complicated and technical problems without the benefit of staff people who can research the problem and bring the committee factual, unbiased information upon which to act. Numerous people testify, or are consulted but they naturally are presenting a case for a particular interest, the committee needs to have its own loyal sources of information.

The announcement by Senate President Donahue that he was recognizing the immense job before the Taxation Committee by assigning staff to it, is good news. To be a more effective legislature we need proper tools. As to cost, we spend $750,000 on a perfect cloud of Court officers, pages and door keepers, (all patronage jobs) perhaps some of this money could be used for committee staff.

While on the matter of taxes, we can not meet our rising commitments let alone give any relief to cities and towns without either introducing a new source of tax money such as a sales tax, or raising the rates of our present taxes. I don't know what the chances are, but certainly any major revamping of our tax structure should ameliorate some of the harmful inequities that now exist. The high rate on unearned income coupled with the provision that no deductions are permitted is an extremely harsh tax, that falls primarily upon widows. With our rising concern for elderly, it would be well to view this tax in the light of today's social realities.

Last year a bill to cut the unearned rate was defeated, but during the last session it was obvious very early that we were not going to do anything about taxes. Perhaps this year the leadership is serious about facing the very obvious fact that our tax structure is not producing as much as we are spending. We, unlike the Federal Government have no printing presses in the basement that can just print up what ever amount we are short.

It's funny how things turn out. We are basically a very conservative and prudent state in terms of fiscal management. Fearing the burdens of debt the Legislature earmarked all the revenues from the cigarette tax for the purpose of paying debt and interest. This very sane policy has had some interesting results. The tax take easily covers our indebtedness, but the money has been borrowed to build hospitals, schools, jails etc. all of which need staffing and maintenance which must be paid for from the normal state incomes, and here is the pinch.

We can afford to build what we cannot afford to staff and maintain, and it is these staffing and maintenance needs as well as the expanding programs that are being demanded that have caused our acute financial crisis.

The taxation committee is bound to have a heavy, hard year. It might be helpful if the bill, recommended by Governor Volpe that all proposals should have their costs, both immediate and projected stated clearly on the cover, were passed. It perhaps could be put under a labelling statute of some kind. Ordinary members need this information to know (when he votes for a likely sounding proposition) just what he is committing his
